Obituary.

Wells Parker died at his home north west of Yale April 24, 1893, after a sickness of three long months. Deceased was born in Lewis county N. Y. He first married Manda Henderson, of Watertown, when about 25 years of age. Two children came of this union, John Parker, of Memphis and Lenora, of Kentucky. About four years from marriage his first wife died and a year later he married Katherine Loucks, of Little Falls. Moving to Jefferson county they resided there until 1851 during which time a son, Charles, was born to them. They then removed to Macomb county, Mich., where another son, Frank, was born. Two years later the family removed to Sanilac county and settled on a farm in speaker, before that place was named. On this farm he lived until death, fighting the battle of life in the woods as only the old pioneers wot of, making shingles and drawing them to Port Huron with a yoke of oxen to buy bread for wife and little ones, and plenty of other hardships. Three other children were born to this Lorne, Lovina, of Marquette, Sidney and George, the last two living on the farm with their father to the time of his death. Of a family of twelve children Wells Parker was the last. Rev. Perkins preached the funeral sermon at the M. P. church, all the children excepting two daughters, being present. His last days were made as comfortable as possible by Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Parker, of Kingston. He died happy in the love of a savior and almost the last words spoken to his wife were "I am going home." He was a kind father, a loving husband and a true friend. His sufferings were severe but he bore it all with great patience. The family desire to extend their heartfelt thanks to their many friends and neighbors for the kindness extended to them during their late bereavement.

A small talk on a few of our many lines of general merchandise.

Hats

Are like charity, for they cover a multitude of sins. They are like successful men for they are always at the top and in the public's eye. They are like a poor old man for they are always worn out. And they are like women in our hours of trial and tribulation for what would we do without them? The oldest thing in hats are heads. We have an excellent line for you to choose from and invite your inspection. Cut this out and paste it in your

Hat

"In fine attire"

Whenever you wish to dress neatly and in a stylish manner call and let us show you our line of Dress Goods. All good dressers are pleased with the line we are showing because it comprises many of the latest weaves and shades. Why not accept this invitation to examine personally an extra showing of Dress goods.
